Specialist advice for Churches, Charities and Not-for-Profit organisations

JCS have over eighty years experience working with the complex and often obscure legislation that affects Charitable organisations.

MEETING YOUR NEEDS

We act for a number of National Charities, Churches, Charitable Trusts and Not-for-Profit organisations and are very aware that no two are alike. Our Charities team will make certain that they fully understand your needs before providing you with cost effective recommendations based on their knowledge of the legislation applicable to the sector in which you operate.

For example, the legal requirements have increased considerably over recent years, and presenting convincing evidence regarding issues such as the assessment of income from trading or quantifying the benefits arising from Job Related Accommodation can prove to be difficult and costly without knowledgeable professional assistance.

DEALING WITH THE CHARITY COMMISSION & HMRC

Should it become necessary, we will be pleased to help you present your case for obtaining or retaining your charitable status or forming a new charity.

We can also help you to find a way through those grey areas that often arise in charity legislation so that you can be sure you're not giving the tax man more of your precious funds than you have to.
